

PARENTING WEST LoTHIAN - WEBSITE

Introduction

Over the past year, Parenting West Lothian has worked to develop support for parents and to ensure parents can access information about groups and courses.

The website is at www.parentingwestlothian.org.uk

Additionally a range of information about parenting and children has been put on the website. This includes information about child development, additional needs of children, and parenting concerns, including sleep problems, dealing with temper tantrums, feeding concerns, etc.

We are now seeking advice from parents about the best way to make this website as useful for parents as it can be.

Questionnaire

Please make comments on the topics already on the website.
Are there any topics you would like to see extended, or developed? Please let us know which topics you want to see more information on.
Are there any additional topics you would like to see us put onto the website? Please let us know which topics could be included.
Any other comments?
